

Brea Croft is situated in an elevated and isolated position overlooking Lands End to the south and Cape Cornwall to the north. Penzance is about 5 miles away.

A long private track leads to the house which is set in its own 6 acres of surrounding pasture land. The House has two first floor bedrooms and a large lounge on the ground floor. The kitchen is fully equipped with cooker, microwave, dishwasher and fridge. The large Bathroom (with superb views) has a shower, bath and toilet.

Heating is by Parkray solid fuel stove in winter backed up with night-store heaters. Water heating is either from the stove in winter or off-peak electricity in summer.

The nearest town for all normal domestic shopping is St Just about 3 miles away. Here there are several stores, butchers, bakers, newsagents and 4 pubs.

Sennen Cove about 2 miles away has a large sandy beach which is very popular. St Ives is about 13 miles away with its many attractions including The Tate gallery.

Penzance has many good eating places including Italian, and Indian restaurants. Fresh fish for home cooking is always available from the Quayside in Newlyn or you can always try the "Smugglers" restaurant which is on the harbour side at Newlyn.

The weekly rate varies according to season and generally we only let the house to relations or close friends.
